El Paso Theatre Saturday and Sunday, March 2-3, Sat. Matinee

The wonder motion picture of the age—"Raising of the MAINE." The great story of the destruction of the American battleship told in motion. It depicts every detail of the blowing up of the great ironclad from the day 200 sailors were consigned to a watery grave through the treachery of a nation at peace with the United States. It shows the wonderful building of the armor-plated ship, the pumping out of the water and the slowly appearing ship's hull as the water within the armor begins to lower, the great twisted hull with its tell-tale holes made by the exploding ammunition after the mine had started the deadly work. Shows the wonderful interior views as the army of government employees labored to bring the bones of the sailors who went down with the ship to light. It shows the water works of the officers' cabin still in working order after thirteen years. Shows a big gun twisted and torn beside a glass port hole still intact. Shows the great man eating sharks for which the harbor of Havana is famous watching with greedy eyes as the men work in the water of the Cuban harbor. It is truly the greatest of pictures, and has been the talk of the cities of all the east where it has been on exhibition for two months. This picture is the property of a private concern and will not be shown in the regular picture houses. If you see an American you owe it to yourself and your children to see the picture. It will take two hours of your time and will cost you 10-15 or 25 cents, according to the location in the theatre. Tickets will be on sale at the Crawford theatre Friday morning—all seats reserved.

ROOSEVELT IS CHARGED WITH CONSPIRING IN PANAMA REVOLT

Senate Adopts a Resolution Calling on President For Panama-Colombian Correspondence.

Washington, D. C., March 1.—The senate today adopted a resolution calling on president Taft to submit to the senate all the correspondence with Colombia dealing with the acquisition of the Panama canal zone by the United States. The resolution was offered by senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, who charged former president Roosevelt with participation in a conspiracy to foment the revolution. Democratic members of the house who are to be given the secrets of the ways and means committee on the sugar tariff in caucus today vainly begged the rooms of that committee for advance information. The talk among members was divided, some claiming it would be free sugar, while others looked for only a 50 percent reduction. The day is Congress. The senate convened at 2 p. m. Cutlery and surgical instrument manufacturers protested to the finance committee against the house steel tariff bill. Railroad attorneys gave their views to the interstate commerce committee on the proposed bill of taxing reforms.

Senator Hitchcock, speaking on his resolution regarding Colombia, said the acquisition of Panama from Colombia was a conspiracy approved by the United States.

American Banking association representatives and others urged the enactment of the Smith agricultural extension bill before the agricultural committee. Counsel Hancay filed with the Lorrimer committee a brief contending the senate is incompetent again to pass upon the title of senator Lorrimer's seat. The house met at noon. The agricultural appropriation bill consideration was resumed. Representatives of land companies were heard in the Florida Everglades investigation. Representative Clark, of Florida, failed in an effort to abolish the office of solicitor of the agricultural department by striking the salary from the agricultural appropriation bill. Representative Stevens introduced a bill to safeguard the right of employees of joint labor unions.

The Anvil Bird.

At dusk in the wilds of the gloomy Brazilian forest you will think it strange to hear the clink of a hammer on an anvil. You would imagine that you were approaching some settlement, and the picture of the ruddy glow of the forge would come up before your eyes. But if your guide were a native he would tell you that the sound was made by a campanero, as they call it, although to foreigners it is known as the anvil bird. This bird is a little larger than a thrush. The plumage is perfectly white, the eyes are a pale gray color, and the naked throat and skin around the eyes are of a fine bright green, while its more northerly relative is orange and black, very much like our oriole. It is generally in the early part of the day that the campanero sends forth the wonderful note that can be heard at a distance of three miles. Marvellous indeed must be the mechanism of the vocal organs of so small a bird to produce so far reaching a note, but there is no doubt of the fact, for many travelers have heard the strange sound uttered by the bird when perched on the topmost branch of some withered tree.—Westminster Gazette.

"Look here, Mr. Smith," said the clergyman sternly, "that was a counterfeit two dollar bill you put in the missionary collection this morning." "Yes," Mr. Smith answered calmly. "I owe the heathen a grudge. They frightened a missionary uncle of mine some years ago."—New York Press.

LAFOLLETTE NOT TO QUIT RACE

Issues Statement That He Will Continue in the Contest.

Madison, Wis., March 1.—"I shall continue in the contest as a candidate for well-defined principles and for a definite program of legislation which once enacted into law will break the hold of privilege on the industrial life of the people and free them from the burden imposed by thousands of millions of fictitious capitalization." This is the gist of a statement under his own signature addressed to "Progressives," and made public today by senator Robert M. La Follette. The letter is an appeal for delegates and leaves no room for doubt but that he will stay in the contest. He denies that his health is broken.

For more than 10 years the Republican party, responding to the demands of a majority of the voters of this country, has controlled the policies of the nation. This extraordinary lease of delegated power from the people has only followed the response of its leaders to the intelligent demands of growth and progress. A political party can only re-
